COMMUNITY ACCESS TO SPORTS FACILITIES

1. Institutional Commitment & Policy Statement

Amity University Mumbai operates as an active, socially responsible civic partner, extending its world-class infrastructure to cultivate regional development, physical literacy, and community well-being. The university firmly asserts that institutional infrastructure should serve the public good. In alignment with its social responsibility mandates and sustainable development strategies, the university explicitly shares its sports facilities with external local communities, including regional schools, amateur athletic clubs, and the general public.

2. Overview of Shared Infrastructure

The university opens a comprehensive array of indoor and outdoor sports infrastructure for public and community engagement:

- Outdoor Sports Complex: Standard cricket ground, multi-lane athletic tracks, and standard football fields utilized for regional school tournaments and local youth athletic training.
- Court Facilities: Floodlit basketball, volleyball, and tennis courts made accessible for local sports clubs and weekend community community leagues.
- Indoor Sports Pavilion: Dedicated provisions for table tennis, badminton, and chess training, hosting inter-school competitions and community-level coaching clinics.

3. Structured Community Engagement Frameworks

To ensure equitable and safe utilization, community access to the university's sports facilities is organized under three structured frameworks:

- Local School Partnerships: Formal invitations and scheduling extended to local public and private schools lacking dedicated sports complexes, allowing them to conduct annual athletic meets and physical education sessions on campus.
- Open-Access Community Windows: Allocated morning and evening time blocks during weekends and academic recesses for neighborhood residents and the general public to access walking tracks and outdoor recreational areas.
- Hosted Civic & NGO Events: Provisioning university facilities as hosting venues for regional sports tournaments, NGO-led youth development programs, and state-level amateur sports trials.

4. Operational Administration and Management

While optimizing public utility, the university enforces strict operational protocols managed by the Campus Administration and Sports Committee to ensure safety, scheduling synergy, and asset preservation:

- Pre-Booked Slot Management: An online and administrative request routing system protects academic athletic training from scheduling conflicts.
- Safety & Supervision: On-site university security personnel and medical room access are maintained during public events to ensure visitor safety.
- Maintenance Protocols: Routine upkeep cycles are systematically managed by campus facilities to support heavy dual-use workloads.
